BROKER BRIDEGROOM IN COURT

ACCUSED OF LARCENY BY A WO-MAN CLIENT AND NEIGHBOR.

He's W. E. Hardt, Married & Month Ago, and She's Cleo Montanye, Widow Lent Him a Check, She Says, to Boister Up His Credit and He Drew Out the Money -Sent Some Back -Paroled

William Ernest Hardt, stockbroker, clubman and bridegroom of 290 Broadway, was before Magistrate Cornell in the Centre street police court yesterday charged with grand larceny of $5,000 worth of stock and $2,800 in money by Mrs. Cleo Montanye of 251 West Eightyseventh street. He was paroled in the custody of his counsel, Abe Levy, until this morning, when the lawyer declared he would deposit $1,500 with the City Chamberlain in certified checks to guarantee his client's appearance for examination

Hardt married, on Oct. 2 last, Miss Mignon Sarah Von Hahn, daughter of the late Richard Von Hahn of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Johnston in the chantry of Grace Church. There were less than a dozen guests present and neither bride nor bridegroom had an attendant. Miss Von Hahn was given away by her mother, Mrs. J. S. Shields. There was a wedding breakfast at the Holland

Up to Oct. 1 Hardt lived with his valet at Central Park West and Eighty-second street. Since his marriage he has lived at Lakewood, N. J. Mrs. Montanye formerly lived at the other end of the same Central Park West block, in the apartment house at 2 West Eighty-third street. She moved about the time Hardt did and went to apartments at 251 West Eighty-seventh

Mrs. Montanye appeared before Magistrate Cornell on Thursday afternoon and asked for three warrants for Hardt. They were granted. The three comple alleged respectively the larceny of $5,000 worth of stock of the Compressed Gas Capsule Company, $2,100 in money and also $700 in money. The warrants were served yesterday by Detective-Sergeant McNaught, who found Hardt at 17 East Fourteenth street.

The complaint alleging the larceny of $2,100 embodies a statement to the effect that the complainant gave this amount to the defendant for investment in railroad stocks, that she was unable to get any stock and could not induce Hardt to return the money. The second complaint alleges the larceny of $5,000 worth of stock.

The third complaint specifically charges the larceny of $700. Mrs. Montanye asserts that Hardt told her that he had sold ten shares of the Compressed Gas Capsule ten shares of the Compressed Gas Capsule Company's stock for her to one A. E. Rose for $1,100, and that Rose had promised to deposit $1,100 to her credit in the Second National Bank, but that he had failed to do so. Hardt thereupon induced her, she says, to write her check on the Second National Bank for $1,100, promising that he would simply show it to Rose, telling him that Mrs. Montanye was about to draw against the money which she supposed Rose had placed to her credit, and that he had better deposit the money immedihad better deposit the money immediately. She says that she only had $700 to her credit in the bank and that Hardt knew it. She says that instead of using her check for the purpose he had mentioned, he placed $400 of his own money to her credit in the bank and then drew out the said Lawyer Moss, who appeared for the complainant, "that Mr. Hardt this morning turned over $4,000 worth of the stock and a check for $600 before he knew that there were warrants out for him." Mr.

Moss consented to the parole.

Hardt, according to Lawyer Levy, is well to do and has good social connections.

Mr. Levy would say nothing else about his client except that he was "not guilty of any

Mr. Hardt is a member of the Calumet Club, the Merchants' Central Club, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the German Society and several other organizations. He is also a director of the Montayne-Wells

A PERMANENT HOME FOR ART. Fine Building to Be Freeted in the Central

Part of the City. The Executive Committee of delegates from the societies forming the Fine Arts Federation, which has for some time been considering the advisability of erecting the city a home for the art societies that might be considered a permanent home or art, met yesterday in the Fine Arts building on West Fifty-seventh street. After the meeting to which the newspaper reporters were not admitted, Frederick Crowninshield, the chairman of the committee, announced that the committee had adopted resolutions recommending that adding be erected in the central part of the city and that it should be devoted bally to art purposes, rather than erect a large building, part of which should concat of offices in order that revenue might a derived in that way. Mr. Crowninshield said the committee had agreed that it would by best to have the building devoted to Mr Crowninshield was asked if he cared to my anything about the story which had been circulated to the effect that the buildog was to cost about $1,000,000 and that the site for it would cost $1,000,000 more.

STATE CONTRACTORS INDICTED. They Are Charged With Violating the Eight-Hour Law on State Contracts

ROCHESTER, Nov. 8 .- Complaint having been lodged by the State authorities before the Grand Jury against the contracting firm of Whitmore, Rauber & Vicinus of this city, indictments were to-day returned against them for misdemeanor in violating the Eight-hour law on public contracts The indictments declare that the firm had the State contract for the highway improvement in Monroe county, known as Pittsford road, No. 61. On Oct. 7, which is specified as the date on which the misdemeanor was committed, it is charged that there was a large gang of men working on the job who were "required and permitted that the county of the c meanor was committed, it is charged that there was a large gang of men working on the job who were "required and permitted to work more than eight hours out of twenty-four," and that in requiring and permitting this work the contractors violated Section 3 of chapter 415 of the laws of 1897, chapter 567 of the laws of 1898 and chapter 115 of the laws of 1898. The sections referred to describe what things must be complied with on the part of contractors on State work. One of these is to the effect that the men shall not be forced to work over eight hours.

The State authorities are back of the prosecution. The evidence was obtained by Dennis C. Sullivan, State Deputy Factory Inspector. Mr. Sullivan was informed of an alleged violation of the law and he went out to Pittsford to see for himself. Mr. Sullivan says that he found evidence that the men were working over hours, and he had a talk with Mr. Vicinus about it. Later he went to Albany, prepared affidavits, and while the last Grand Jury was in session, placed the facts he had secured before that body. Work on the Pittsford road was completed on Oct. 15 and the firm is engaged in other important State contracts. They have done a great deal of work for the State and the firm is rated at considerably over a million.

The penalty is imprisonment for a year or a fine of $500, or both. It is also provided that they will attack the constitutionality of the law.

Coler to pay him $2,639 for legal services and disbursements in the trial of Dr. Samuel J. Kennedy on a charge of murder was set aside by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court vesterday. Mr. Hennessy and John F. McIntyre were designated by District Attorney Philbin to conduct the trial after their connection with the District Attorney's office had ceased. The District Attorney said he understood Mr. Hennessy to say he would do the work for $500. The retainer of these lawyers was approved by Justice Fursman, who fixed the compensation of Mr. Hennessy at $2,539 and of Mr. McIntyre at $5,000 and disbursements. Justice Fursman acted without notice to the District Attorney.

After a long review of the statutes, showing that the act of 1872, under which Justice Fursman acted, is repealed, the Appellate Division finds in effect that there is no authority in this county for a Judge to fix the compensation to be paid to special counsel employed by a District Attorney in an important criminal case, although the county Judges in other counties have this power. If the services of special counsel so employed in this county cannot be agreed upon, the Court says by implication that the remedy of special counsel is to have the value of the services fixed in an action to recover for services.

The similar case of John F. McIntyre was submitted to the Appellate Division yesterday.

METHODISTS RAISE $13,000,000 Of the Proposed $20,000,000 Thank Offering Fund-$400,000 in New York.

Methodists of Manhattan and The Bronx, including that part of the New York East Conference which skirts the East River on the Manhattan side, have raised $400,000 of the $1,000,000 which they started out to get as their part of the $20,000,000 Thank Offering Fund. This is considerably more than one-half the amount needed to pay the debts on all Methodist churches within the district named. Last Sunday evening the debts on all Methodist churches within the district named. Last Sunday evening all remaining indebtedness on Calvary Church. Seventh avenue and 127th street, was pledged, and a meeting has been called for Nov. 24, in Grace Church, 104th street near Columbus avenue, when it is said a showing will be made of about $50,000, or quite sufficient entirely to clear that church from its heavy debt. The Rev. Dr. E. S. Tripple, the executive secretary, said year Tripple, the executive secretary, said yes-terday that that prediction is based on the fact that $40,000 in pledges is already other churches in this movement are Union, in West Forty-eighth street, which has $52,000 indebtedness, and Willis Avenue Church, with a $43,000 mortgage, and both expect to be free before the end of the year. Centenary Church, Washington avenue, Olin Church, Williamsbridge, and St. Stephen's Church, Kingsbridge, with combined debts of $75,000, have raised two-thirds of their incumbrances. Stephen's Church, Kingsbridge, with combined debts of $75,000, have raised two-thirds of their incumbrances.

The general Methodist plan of $20,000,000 for all purposes has now reached a total of $13,000,000. Methodists think they will not secure the full amount unless the time limit of Jan. 1, 1902, be extended.

COLVIN CLAIMS $375,241.

Former Superintendent of Adirondack Survey Says State Took His Property.

ALBANY, Nov. 8 -- Ex-Superintendent Colvin, of the State Adirondack Survey, has filed against the State a claim for $375,241.

Mr. Colvin was legislated out of office two years ago, having conducted the State survey in the Adirondack Mountains under the authority of the State since 1878. At that time he declared that he had not been legislated out of office, because the Legislature had not repealed the original act under which he had been appointed. State Englisher and Surveyor Bond took possession of the maps, surveys, records of surveys and other papers in the office of the Superintendent of the Adirondack Survey, and made thom a part of the records of his siepartment. CORNELL UNIVERSITY'S NEEDS the Question of Discipline He Says Victors and Drunken Students Should Be Expelled—Additional Endowments Needed -- An Appeal Made for State Ald.

POINTS IN PRESIDENT SCHUR-MAN'S ANNUAL REPORT.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 8 .- At the regular fall meeting of the Board of Trustees of Cornell University to be held to-morrow, President Schurman will submit his annual report. It deals with the question of student discipline and sets out the growing needs of the university. The institution, the President asserts, was never in greater need of beneficent endowment than at the present time, and the question of finance becoming more perplexing each year as the attendance of the students increases

In referring to the character and conduct of the students at Cornell, the President says not only the good name of the university but its tone and morals imperatively demand that the few unworthy or worthless young men who are here should be eliminated. No university can tolerate with impunity a single victous or drunken or licentious student. It is be lieved that this evil should be checked in its incipiency, and President Schurman recommends that the matter be delegated to a committee on student conduct.

This strong recommendation is due to the drunkenness that appeared among the students late last year and resulted in the summary expulsion of several of them. It also led to a direct attack upon the famous Dutch Kitchen, the popular students' resort, both in President Schurman's address to the alumni last June and also in his annual address in September. The subject of cheating on examinations is also referred to. It appears that the

The subject of cheating on examinations is also referred to. It appears that the so-called honor system inaugurated a few years ago is rapidly disappearing. Last year the faculty called upon the students to take up the question and regulate it for themselves, but they failed to accomplish any definite reform. Hence it is highly probable that the authorities will in the near future have to readopt the proctor system in order to prevent the further spread of "cribbing."

President Schurman recommends the extension of the elective system, thereby rendering it possible for a candidate to secure both the A. B. degree and any other degree offered at Cornell in six years. Heretofore it has been possible to secure only the law and medical degrees, in addition to the A. B. degree, within that time. It is now proposed to include all engineering degrees, and in this way it is hoped to stimulate the desire for a general and broad education before the student branches out into the specialties.

The need of additional endowments is clearly pointed out. Reports from heads of various departments say that it is impossiout into the specialties.

The need of additional endowments is clearly pointed out. Reports from heads of various departments say that it is impossible to afford adequate instruction to the great number of students who apply for admittance to the various courses. The departments of languages, history, politics, philosophy and physics are especially crippled. An appeal is also made for State aid. President Schurman says the time has come for the erection by the State of a great Hall of Agriculture. For all the work of publication, investigation and instruction the State has not provided any building accommodation at Cornell, except the small dairy building, and the university itself has no means to make good the deflency.

The finances of the university are explained in detail. On Aug. 1, 1901, the productive funds of Cornell amounted to $6,891,627.24. The buildings and equipments were valued at $3,978,582.04, making the total value of the property of the university $10,870,209.28. The total number of instructors is 324, of which number there are 71 professors, 17 clinical professors, 111 instructors and 89 assistants.

Louis Fitzgerald, Jr., Strikes Gen. McCoskry Butt-Resignations Expected.

As the result of an encounter between Louis Fitzgerald, Jr., and Gen. McCoskry Butt on Saturday night last there is talk of resignations from that club of young men about town known as the Strollers. The trouble occurred at the weekly "roister" of the Strollers at their clubhouse, 67 Madison avenue, and although it has been patched up since, a great deal of ill feeling has been engendered and it will be some time before the indignation of some of the members subsides. According to the story told yesterday, roung Fitzgerald, togged out in skirts of flimsy material, was practising a female impersonation which he sometimes gives these weekly entertainments. There had been some drinking, and Fitzgerald didn't take amiss the antics of some of his friends, who plucked at his skirts and teased him in other ways. Gen. Butt, who had come in meanwhile with a party who had come in meanwhite with a party of friends, among whom, it is said, were Capt. Mason Morris, Ernest Iselin and Capt. Nelson B. Burr, seemed to fear that Capt. Nelson B. Burr, seemed to fear that the beisterous fun might end in a row, and so he stepped over to Pitzgerald, whose father. Gen. Pitzgerald, is an old friend of his, and said:

"Come over here, Louis, and sit with us." His answer was a blow in the face from Pitzgerald's cienched flat. For a moment the bested as though Gen. Butt would said

It looked as though Gen. Butt would sail in and arnthilate the young man, but he quietly withdrew from the clubbouse with his friends. On Sunday he got a long letter of apology from Fitzgerald, who said that he was not entirely responsible for his actions on Friday night and humbly begged for forgiveness. Gen. Butt wrote back for forgiveness. Gen Butt wrote back telling the young man to forget the entire affair, as he meant to do, and that closed the incutent, so far as the principals are concerned. Neither Gen. Butt not young Pitzgorald would discuss the matter at all last night.

BRITISH TRADE DECLINE. The "Times" Says That It Is Not a Serious

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.
LONDON, Nov. 9.—The Times, reviewing the present condition of British trade, says it is certainly less active than it was in the middle of 1900, but it would be absurd to talk of a serious depression. It would be strange if the merchants and manufacturers of Great Britain con-tinued to be fully employed when most other industrial nations are experiencing severe reaction from inflated trade. No great country can be highly prosperous under modern conditions unless other countries are at least fairly so.

YESTERDAY'S MUSIC EVENTS. Lilli Lehmann in Song Recital at Carnegle

Hall-Louis Saar's Concert. Mme. Lilli Lehmann, once a great Isolde, Brunnhilde, Ortrud, Donna Anna, Valenting-the list is a long one-gave, a song ecital in Carnegie Hall vesterday afternoon When the stately, white-haired and still handsome woman appeared upon the platform she faced an audience of admirers, an audience prepared to make concessions of all sorts for the mere pleasure of hearing a famous operatic singer. That Mme. Lehmann's voice would keep pace with her art was not to be expected; it has been waning for ten years. But there remains the sovereign musical intelligence, the unfailing, unflagging, dramatic temperament, a perfect comprehension of her vocal shortcomings, and ability to cope with though not to conceal them. It would be critical churlishness to note the decay of this voice; yet for all that the twilight has set in, the "lights are lowered" as Robert Louis Stevenson had it and where there were radiance of timbre, brilliant prodigality and a supreme outpouring now the order is enforced frugality of utterance, and restricted vocal dynamics. Lehmann's tone color is monochrome. She seldom sings above mezza-voce. Her songs are lieder ohne forte. But all this being granted one cannot help admiring her unquenchable energy and fight against
